Overview of Persistent Orofacial Pain in an Hour

Wednesday, 31st August, 2022 – 18:00 to 19:30 BST

Professor Justin Durham

Professor of Orofacial Pain,
Hon. Consultant Oral Surgeon and
Head, School of Dental Sciences

Speaker: Justin is a Professor of Orofacial Pain and Head of School at Newcastle University's School of Dental Sciences and an Honorary Consultant Oral Surgeon at Newcastle-Upon-Tyne's Hospitals' NHS Foundation Trust in the UK. His primary research interests are in orofacial pain both at the first and second translational research gaps. He has wide experience in a variety of methodologies involved in health services research and has received international awards both for clinical and pedagogical research. He is currently the British Dental Association's Chief Scientific Advisor.

Lecture: This 1 hour lecture will give a broad overview and grounding in the key areas for the variety of postgraduate examinations clinicians from a wide variety of specialty and non-specialty backgrounds may undertake during their career. It will also provide an update for those who have completed their training. It will include contemporary evidence on TMD, Burning Mouth Disorder, Trigeminal Neuralgia, and "Phantom" tooth pain.
